3. Commentary on the Group's Prospects

The weaker than expected global economic growth, the on-going supply chain disruptions, the rising energy and commodities prices that pushed inflation higher have slowed down our country's economic recovery. These factors have also impacted our overall costs of doing business. Nevertheless, we continue to adopt stringent costs control measures and will continue to strategize and navigate through the challenging business environment to ensure that our core business activities remain resilient and stable. We will expand our product range and customers to increase our Group's revenue.
